

Silver Donald Cameron, CM, ONS, PhD, Farley Mowat Chair in Environment, Cape Breton University. Sadly, he passed away in June, 2020

“Food Security is a wise and powerful book, packed with a lifetime’s learning.”

Ralph Martin’s Food Security: From Excess to Enough is a work of radical sanity. Recounting his journey from farm boy to plant scientist to philosopher, Martin never forgets – and constantly re-learns – that “food viscerally connects us to Earth.” The final goal of knowledge is wisdom, so it is no surprise that Martin’s explorations in the lands of food ultimately bring him to spirit, to the insight that “we are not components of economic systems but, rather, creatures evolved from star dust, with ancestors who understood their place in the cosmos and Earth.”